

cribs

10 meter tall palm trees in every corner the leaves are a glowing green that you can hear waving in the wind there, we would have a fireplace the embers make a cozy crackling sound that you can smell as they burn above the fireplace there would be a Basquiat painting Bird on Money

over here we would have an actual pile of money with a bird on top of it a pigeon and it would sit upon a stack of 50 dollar bills as green as the leaves of the palm trees above the pigeon there would be a shark tank

2 hammerheads and requiems in the distance, beyond the basketball courts and just pass the golf range 4 yachts as big as football fields

Jillian, Joycelyn, Doris, Erlene.

and next to the yachts there would be jet skis for all of us we could ride the golf carts over to the jet skis then cruise until sunset in this corner we'd have a red ferrari, a yellow lamborghini and a jelly bentley all with the suicide doors, peanut butter leather and dat boom in this corner I'm not quite sure but I am sure this whole wall would be a television even though we don't watch it there would be elephants and giraffes just chillin in this corner we'd have a rolex watches, books and bars of gold in between the rolexes and bars of gold I'd put our anxieties over here, on this wall, we would have diamond encrusted mahogany wood shelves just faberge eggs

here, there used to be a pile of money but we spent it all so we could buy that crystal chandelier but underneath that chandelier there'd be a fountain in the middle a Lil B bust tears running like I Love You underneath the fountain there'd be Persian rugs underneath the Persian rugs there'd be marble floors when you lay down it feels cold to the touch underneath the marble floors there'd be a cellar and in the cellar there would be broken things

a broken will a broken heart

champagne